Subject: Beginning of the lecture period

Dear students,

As you know, the lecture period for the summer semester 2020 will begin online on the coming Monday, 20 April 2020. This means that educational activities for all students will begin exclusively in virtual or digital formats and, for the present, no on-campus activities will take place. These measures will be in effect on the basis of the general lockdown restrictions, currently until 3 May.

The summer semester will end on 30 September 2020. The adjustment of the end of the lecture period and the examination period will be concluded shortly with the close participation of the bodies of student representation.

Due to the delay starting the lecture period, the Faculties may also use Saturdays as well as 29 May 2020 and 2 June 2020 for lectures or course activities. Your Faculty will inform you about course timetables.

The current rules regarding the ban on entering the university premises remain in effect; for further information about this, please visit our website:

The measures to contain the coronavirus that have been implemented by the Bavarian State Government will be eased incrementally. Correspondingly, the TH Nürnberg will also be opening its facilities gradually and resuming on-campus operations as soon as possible – the Faculties and the University Management will keep you informed about current developments. Please continue to check your university email account and check the TH Nürnberg's internet and intranet pages for updates about the situation at the university and about academic affairs.

The University Management is aware that the current situation presents many challenges for you as students. Numerous faculty have used the past weeks to create virtual or digital teaching formats and in parallel the technical infrastructure is being extended. The responsible contact people at your Faculty, the Student Counseling Service, and the Student Office are all available for your questions about academic affairs and your studies.

I wish you all the best for the start of the lecture period of this – admittedly unusual and challenging – summer semester!

With kind regards,

Niels Oberbeck

President
