

The War That Won't End: Vietnam, Media, and the Crisis of Our Time

Fifty years after the fall of Saigon, the Vietnam War is still being fought: over memory, media, and meaning.

Prof. Duy Lap Nguyen (University of Houston) examines why the meaning of the Vietnam War remains fiercely contested, and how its media legacy connects directly to today's crises of democracy, disinformation, and global catastrophe.

9. Juni um 18 Uhr
Raum KA 213
www.th-nuernberg.de

